DAVID POILE PRESIDENT OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS/GENERAL MANAGER

The only man to be a finalist for the General Manager of the Year Award for each of its first three years of the award's existence (2010, 2011 and 2012), Nashville Predators President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile has been a top voice in the National Hockey League for 30 years (15 with Washington, 15 with Nashville), tied for the third longest tenure in NHL history, and second in consecutive active seasons as a GM to the New York Rangers' Glen Sather (32 years). He is the only general manager in NHL history to be at the helm of two different clubs for 1,000 games and 500 victories, attaining both marks in 2011-12. First the 1,000-game mark on Nov. 12, 2011, then the 500-win plateau on March 30, 2012.

Poile enters the 2012-13 campaign ranked second all-time in games (2,246) by a general manager – trailing only Sather (2,488) – and third in wins (1,097) behind Sather (1,195) and longtime Boston Bruins executive Harry Sinden (1,170). On March 21, 2010 at St. Louis, he picked up his 1,000th win as a general manager in a 3-2 Predators victory.

As the architect of a club built on speed, skill and steadfast work ethic, Poile's philosophy of building through home-grown talent and effective drafting continued to pay dividends in 2011-12 as the Predators were the only Western Conference team to advance to the second round of the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the second consecutive season, this after becoming one of just five teams to make the postseason in seven of the last eight seasons and one of three to reach the 40-win mark in each of the last seven seasons.

In total, a franchise-record 22 draft picks suited up for Nashville during the 2011-12 campaign – three more than in 2010-11 – and 15 of the 24 players to dress for Nashville during the 2012 Playoffs were selected and developed by the franchise. The Predators are built around a pair of homegrown products in back-to-back Vezina Trophy finalist Pekka Rinne in goal – who Poile signed to a seven-year contract in November 2011 – and back-to-back Norris Trophy runner-up Shea Weber - who became the recipient of the second-largest contract in NHL history when Poile matched a 14-year, $110 million offer sheet in July 2012. The two longest tenured Predators – David Legwand (1998) and Martin Erat (1999) paced the club's offense, while Patric Hornqvist – the final pick of the 2005 Entry Draft (230th overall) – became the first Predator draftee to record three consecutive 20-goal seasons for the team in 2011-12. Craig Smith (2009) supplemented the forward corps with one of the top seasons by a rookie in franchise history, while talented young talent Nick Spaling (2007), Colin Wilson (2008) and Gabriel Bourque (2009) also showed the future is bright. Joining Weber on the blue line were fellow 2003 draftee Kevin Klein, in addition to promising rookies Ryan Ellis (2009), Roman Josi (2008) and Jonathon Blum (2007).

A year after supplementing the drafted talent with the likes of Mike Fisher and Sergei Kostitsyn via trade, Poile was among the busiest GMs in the business in 2011-12, transforming the Predators from a team that was tied for the youngest team in the league in October, to a veteran club picked by many as a favorite to go all the way. Nashville's 2012 playoff roster included eight players who were not with the club to start the season, including trade deadline acquisitions Andrei Kostitsyn, Hal Gill and Paul Gaustad, which addressed the Predators needs of skill, size and playoff experience. One month after the deadline, Poile saw nearly four years of work come to fruition when Alexander Radulov – known as the best player outside the NHL – return to the Predators for the stretch drive and postseason.

Poile's third straight GM of the Year nomination in 2011-12 came after the team finished with a 48-26-8 record (104 points), the third-best record in the Western Conference, fifth-best in the NHL, and good for home-ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Playoffs. The 2011-12 edition of the Predators were one of only four teams to finish in the Top 10 in both goals for (eighth) and goals against (eighth), and one of three teams to rank in the League's Top 10 in both power-play percentage (first) and penalty kill percentage (10th). In 2010-11, Nashville earned the fifth seed in the Western Conference (99 points) and gave up the third-fewest goals in the League (190) despite missing nearly 350 man-games due to injury, and in 2009-10, Poile constructed a team that was one of 11 to hit the 100-point mark, despite having a payroll ranked 28th in the League, to earn a spot as a finalist for the inaugural General Manager of the Year Award.

Under Poile's direction, the Predators have been one of the top teams in the NHL since evolving from an expansion team in the early 2000s, to a bona fide contender. Since the start of 2005-06, Nashville's 320 wins ranks fifth-best in the league, while 181 home victories puts them third in the NHL.

The aggressive team-building plan implemented by Poile from the franchise's inception has helped the organization earn the reputation as one of the most stable, well-built teams in the NHL. Crucial to the plan's success is the ability to make the right selections and develop the young prospects. Poile has assembled a bright staff of personnel charged with those responsibilities, including assistant general manager Paul Fenton, chief amateur scout Jeff Kealty, and a coaching staff led by Barry Trotz.

Poile has long been a proponent of a strong developmental system as a means to develop blossoming young players into productive NHL players. The Predators' primary developmental affiliate, the American Hockey League's Milwaukee Admirals, captured the first Calder Cup Championship in franchise history in 2004 and revisited the Calder Cup Finals in 2006. They made their 10th consecutive trip to the Calder Cup Playoffs in 2012, making them one of two franchises (Connecticut/Hartford) to attain the feat. Milwaukee has won four division titles in the past nine seasons and became the first team in AHL history to post 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points in eight consecutive seasons from 2002-03 to 2010-11, each season with a team predominately made up of Predators prospects.

Poile's wisdom and experience is clearly valued throughout the hockey world. He was associate general manager for the 2010 United States Olympic Team, and helped select the team that would become one of the headline stories of the 2010 Games, capturing the hearts of a nation en route to a silver medal. He was a member of the U.S. National Team Advisory Group for the 2012 International Ice Hockey Federation World Championships after serving as associate GM for the U.S.'s entries into the 2009 and 2010 editions of the tournament, and as general manager at the 1998 and 1999 Worlds.

He was also selected as one of four NHL general managers to sit on the first NHL competition committee in 2005. The steering body formulates and recommends rule changes for approval by the NHL Board of Governors. In this role, he helped usher in the new era of NHL hockey – featuring on-ice innovations such as the regular-season shootout and the elimination of the red line – while at the same time drawing upon the wealth of experience accumulated through his many years in the game. The Competition Committee

In 2006-07, when Poile was recognized by The Sporting News as its Executive of the Year, an honor he had received twice previously (1982-83 and 1983-84) and which is determined through a vote of his peers, after the Predators finished the season with the second-most points in the Western Conference and tied for the third-most points in the entire National Hockey League. The Predators established franchise records in points (110), wins (51), road wins (23) and goals (272) during the campaign. Locally, Business TN magazine honored him as the magazine's "CEO of the Year" for 2006 based on his consistent and successful track record as the team's architect.

In 2001, Poile was a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award in recognition of contributions to hockey in the United States. Poile has devoted his professional career to hockey and the NHL, particularly in non-traditional markets. His late father, Bud Poile, also a recipient of the Lester Patrick Award (1989) and a member of the Hockey Hall of Fame (1990), served as general manager of two expansion franchises – first in Philadelphia (1967) and then in Vancouver (1970). David Poile began his professional career as an administrative assistant with the Atlanta Flames expansion franchise in 1972 and spent 10 years with the organization before being named general manager of the Washington Capitals in 1982. The 2012-13 campaign will mark his 40th in NHL.

For the 1982-83 season, Poile took the reins of a Washington team that had never made the Stanley Cup Playoffs. In his 15 years there, the Capitals advanced to the postseason 14 times. The 1997-98 Capitals, largely comprised of players Poile acquired, advanced to the Stanley Cup Finals. During his 15-year tenure, the Caps compiled a record of 596-454-124 (.559), ranking among the NHL's top-five teams during that span.

Poile was instrumental in the league's adoption of the instant replay rule in 1991. He was awarded Inside Hockey's Man of the Year award for his leadership on the issue.

JEFF COGEN CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Jeff Cogen brings more than 30 years of experience in the sports and entertainment industry to the Nashville Predators as the team's Chief Executive Officer, a role he was named to in August 2010. As the CEO of both the Predators and Bridgestone Arena, Cogen is responsible for running the business operations of both the club and the arena.

During his tenure as CEO, he has guided the organization to its most successful sales seasons to date, with the Nashville Predators increasing attendance from four regular season sellouts in 2009-10 to sixteen in 2010-11 and most recently to a franchise record 25 in 2011-12. He was also instrumental in leading the Predators to an all-time-high 96 percent ticket renewal rate as well as helping Bridgestone Arena achieve consecutive Top 10 year-end Pollstar rankings for the first time in organizational history.

Prior to joining the Predators, Cogen served as President of both the Dallas Stars (2007-10) and Texas Rangers (2004-07) after previously working under the Hicks Sports Group umbrella from 1993-2001. As President of the Rangers, and then the Stars, Cogen ran all business aspects of the franchises, and also served as Hicks Sports Group's primary representative on American Airlines Center Board that provides oversight and leadership on all arena issues including overall financial performance, capital expenditures, third party events, and team operations.

With the Rangers, where he was also Chief Operating Officer for one year, Cogen increased revenues by 20 percent over a three-year span, and generated revenue streams through a landmark naming-rights deal (Ameriquest Field in Arlington), and through non-traditional outlets such has technological partnerships.

In his first stint with the Stars as Vice President from 1993-99, Cogen helped build the newly relocated franchise's season ticket base to more than 15,000 fans and saw a sellout streak that lasted more than 150 games over a nearly four-season span. After being promoted to Executive V.P. of Marketing and Sales of Southwest Sports Group (entity that operated both the Stars and Rangers), Cogen created synergies between the teams that led to exponential rises in ticket and sponsorship revenue.

Cogen's two stints in Dallas were bridged by a successful two-year stretch as Chief Operating Officer of the Florida Panthers and the then-Office Depot Center. From 2001-03, he executed a naming rights agreement for the venue, and boosted income on both the team and building sides via joint entertainment ventures.

The Newport News, Va., native's first taste of professional sports came as Director, and later Vice President of Marketing for Olympia Arenas, the managing company of Detroit Red Wings, Joe Louis Arena and Fox Theater, from 1986-93. He started his career with Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Shows in 1979, managing more than 100 engagements until August 1986.

SEAN HENRY PRESIDENT/CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER

Now entering his third season as the President/Chief Operating Officer of the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena, Sean Henry (Twitter: @PREDSident) has brought a unique and aggressive approach to arena booking and operations, ticket and sponsorship sales and government affairs to his position. As President and COO, he is responsible for assisting Chief Executive Officer Jeff Cogen in all business operations of the franchise and venue.

In his first two seasons with the team, Henry has been a busy man, guiding Bridgestone Arena to its first-ever consecutive Top 10 Pollstar year-end rankings. He was instrumental in helping Bridgestone Arena secure a new lease with the city of Nashville, keeping the downtown staple thriving and growing through 2028. Henry also helped guide the Nashville Predators to their most successful sales season to date, with a franchise record 25 sellouts in 2011-12 and an all-time high 96 percent ticket renewal rate.

Prior to joining the Predators, Henry spent 11 years with the Tampa Bay Lightning and Palace Sports and Entertainment, serving as their Executive Vice President and COO. While overseeing business operations for the Lightning, St. Pete Times Forum and Single-A baseball's Asheville Tourists, the company saw dramatic increases in media, ticket, sponsorship, suite and event revenues. The St. Pete Times Forum became one of the busiest venues in the country, built around a Stanley Cup Championship in 2004.

Henry's two years prior to his stay in Tampa were spent as Vice President of Sales and Marketing with Unity Motion in St. Louis, Mo., the first company to design, develop and market High Definition television systems to retail markets. Unity Motion boasts the distinction of the first ever live HD broadcast across the United States and the first live sporting event in HD with the NBA's Portland Trailblazers.

The Long Island native started working at the tender age of three, helping his father on construction sites. Henry was charged with the largest of tasks – from picking up nails to watching cement cure, he did it all. Henry then entered the sports and entertainment industry in 1983 when he joined Volume Services Inc., as a busboy and would serve in various building management roles with the company from through 1997. In his time with Volume Services Henry served as the General Manager of the Palace at Auburn Hills, home of the NBA's Detroit Pistons, the Regional General Manager of the Trans World Dome, home of the NFL's St. Louis Rams, and as a project manager on an array of new accounts and construction projects, with his last project being Jack Kent Cooke Stadium, the then-home of the NFL's Washington Redskins.

Henry counts being the runner-up at the Pinewood Derby quarterfinals at the age of 9 with his hand-built O'Henry Bar car as one of his greatest work rewards, right after having his name engraved on the Stanley Cup.

Henry serves on the boards of The Nashville Predators Foundation, and The Nashville Downtown Partnership, and he and Tracey are very involved in their children's schools, sports teams and direct fundraising for Attention Home, a home for abused children in Safety Harbor, Florida.

PAUL FENTON ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Now in his 15th season with the Predators, and his seventh as the club's assistant general manager, Paul Fenton has been instrumental in bringing in many of Nashville's core players, primarily through the draft, but also through trades and free agent signings.

After serving as the director of player personnel for the Predators' first eight seasons, Fenton was promoted to assistant general manager on June 5, 2006, where he oversees the Predators' amateur player development, manages the team's professional and amateur scouting staff and advises President of Hockey Operations/General Manager David Poile on player personnel decisions. He has been in charge of all player acquisitions since joining the Predators and managed the club's Entry Draft efforts since 2003 (when the team selected Ryan Suter, Shea Weber, Kevin Klein and Alexander Sulzer), doing so jointly with Chief Amateur Scout Jeff Kealty in the process since 2008.

In 2011-12, a franchise-record 22 of 34 players to appear in at least one game were drafted and developed by the Predators. When Nashville became the only Western Conference club to advance to the second round of the playoffs in back-to-back years in 2012, 15 players were drafted and developed by Fenton and his staff.

Fenton also serves as general manager of the Predators' primary developmental affiliate, the Milwaukee Admirals of the American Hockey League, who made their 10th consecutive playoff appearance in 2012. The Admirals have won four division titles in the past nine seasons, and became the first team in AHL history to post 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points in eight consecutive seasons from 2002-03 to 2010-11. He also served as Associate GM for Team USA at the 2011 World Championships.

Fenton joined the Predators after spending five seasons in the Anaheim Ducks' hockey operations department. He served as a scout during his first three seasons with the Ducks and as the chief professional scout the last two years. A number of players drafted during Fenton's run with the Ducks – such as Paul Kariya, Steve Rucchin, Ruslan Salei and Mike LeClerc – led Anaheim to the 2003 Stanley Cup Finals. The Springfield, Mass., native also helped facilitate one of the Anaheim franchise's largest trades, the February 1996 acquisition of Teemu Selanne.

Fenton played eight seasons in the NHL before joining the scouting ranks. He amassed 100 goals and 83 assists in 411 NHL contests while playing for seven different NHL teams, including San Jose during the Sharks' inaugural season (1991-92). In 1989-90, the former Boston University Terrier scored an NHL career-high 32 goals for the Winnipeg Jets, and his playing resume also includes three selections to AHL and IHL All-Star teams.

BRENT PETERSON HOCKEY OPERATIONS ADVISOR

A Nashville Predator since Day One, Brent Peterson enters his second season as Hockey Operations Advisor in 2012-13 after 13 seasons as a member of the team's coaching staff. In his role as an advisor, Peterson works closely with General Manager David Poile and Head Coach Barry Trotz on all matters involving the team, in addition to being active in the community and in sponsorship and business operations.

A tireless worker in the community, Peterson established the Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's (PFP) in 2007 to raise awareness of the devastating effects of Parkinson's disease. In 2011, PFP joined forces with the Nashville Predators to hold Petey's Preds Party – a fun night of live entertainment, dinner and an extensive silent auction – and the Nashville Predators/Brent Peterson Celebrity Golf Classic. Last season's inaugural event raised more than $200,000 to be split between Parkinson's research and the Predators Foundation. Donations to PFP fund critical research to aid in the fight against the disease as well as educational and support groups.

Last year, Peterson brought his battle with Parkinson's into the public eye – including in-depth coverage of his Deep Brain Stimulation Surgery (DBS) – in an effort to create awareness and cultivate donations to the Peterson Foundation for Parkinson's. Since the DBS, Peterson is happy, healthy and has seen a dramatic reduction of his Parkinson's symptoms.

In his time behind the Predators bench as both associate coach (2003-11) and assistant coach (1998-2003), Peterson worked closely with the penalty killing unit that has finished among the top 12 in the NHL in 10-of-12 seasons, and a defensive corps that gave up the second fewest goals in his final season behind the bench (2010-11). He helped the club to Stanley Cup Playoff berths in six of the his last seven seasons behind the bench.

Peterson joined the Predators after serving as head coach of the Portland Winter Hawks (WHL) for seven seasons, posting a 201-138-20 mark. During the 1997-98 season, the Winter Hawks were a league-best 53-14-5 and captured the WHL Championship and the Memorial Cup. He recorded 40-or-more victories on four occasions and helped develop NHL first-round picks Adam Deadmarsh (1993), Jason Wiemer (1994), Brenden Morrow (1997) and Marian Hossa (1997).

Prior to joining Portland, the Calgary, Alta., native spent two seasons (1989-91) as an assistant coach with the Hartford Whalers (NHL) following his retirement as a player. The former first-round pick of Detroit (1978) played 11 NHL seasons from 1978-89 with Detroit, Buffalo, Vancouver and Hartford. He appeared in 620 NHL games, collecting 213 points (72g-141a) and 484 penalty minutes. Peterson was known as one of the NHL's top defensive forwards and penalty killers.

Brent and his wife, Tami, reside in Franklin, Tenn. They have three children: Ryan, Brad and Kristin.

JEFF KEALTY CHIEF AMATEUR SCOUT

Kealty, now in his 12th season with the organization, has been managing the club's amateur scouting operation as the Predators Chief Amateur Scout since July 25, 2007. In addition to monitoring the best draft-eligible talent around the globe, Kealty keeps an eye on the CHL, NCAA and other junior leagues in North America and Europe. Reporting to Assistant General Manager Paul Fenton, Kealty also spearheads the team's annual efforts at the NHL Entry Draft.
The Boston native has overseen Nashville's past five drafts, helping to bolster the club's depth across the board, selecting 24 forwards, 11 defensemen and four goalies since his first year running Nashville's draft table in 2008. While much of the talent Kealty and his staff have selected the past five years is still developing, the future looks bright.

A seventh-round steal (207th overall) by Kealty's staff in the 2008 Entry Draft, Anders Lindback outgrew the backup role in 2011-12 and will now get an opportunity to be an NHL starter with Tampa Bay, but not before Nashville received two second-round picks and a third rounder from the Lightning for him.

Promising 2008 second-round pick (38th overall) Roman Josi and 2008 first rounder (seventh overall) Colin Wilson are still developing, while the 2009 class may end up being the best in franchise history to date. Ryan Ellis (11th overall, first round), Craig Smith (98th overall, fourth round) and Gabriel Bourque (132nd overall, fifth round) became full-time NHLers in 2011-12, while others are on the verge, including Mattias Ekholm (102nd overall, fourth round), who will spend his first full season in North America in 2012-13 after winning the 2012 Börje Salming Award as the top defenseman in the Swedish Elite League and 2011 Swedish Elite League Rookie of the Year honors.

A former first-round pick (22nd overall) of the Quebec Nordiques in 1994, Kealty was signed by Nashville as a free agent in 1998 following a four-year college career at Boston University. The former defenseman played one pro season for the Milwaukee Admirals (International Hockey League) before his playing career was cut short due to injury.

BARRY TROTZ HEAD COACH

The first and only coach in franchise history, Barry Trotz is regarded as one of the top bench bosses in the game today, having been a finalist for the Jack Adams Award as the NHL's top coach in both 2009-10 and 2010-11, and finishing among the top five in Adams voting again in 2011-12.

In his 14 seasons and 15 years as the Predators' coach, Trotz has put himself among some legendary names, ranking third all-time in games coached (1,066) and fourth all-time in wins (503) with a single franchise, in addition to moving into 15th on the all-time coaching victories list. On Nov. 12, 2011 against the Monttreal Canadiens, he hit the 1,000-game milestone, and on March 30, 2012, reached the 500-win mark. Additionally, he is one of just six coaches in all four major North American sports leagues to have coached or managed each of a team's first 14 seasons of existence (MLB: Connie Mack (50, Oakland); NFL: Curly Lambeau (29, Green Bay), Tom Landry (29, Dallas), Hank Stram (15, Kansas City), Paul Brown (15, Cleveland)), and one of just four coaches in expansion-team history (among the four major sports) to have a record better than .500.

Trotz, the second-longest tenured coach in the NHL behind only Buffalo's Lindy Ruff, guided the Predators to the second round of the playoffs for the second consecutive season in 2012, making them the only Western Conference team to advance beyond the first round in each of the past two seasons.

Trotz is the also only coach to lead his team to the playoffs in seven of the last eight seasons, averaging nearly 45 wins and 99 points per season (91 in 2003-04, 106 in 2005-06, 110 in 2006-07, 91 in 2007-08, 88 in 2008-09, 100 in 2009-10, 99 in 2010-11 and 104 in 2011-12). The Predators also boast the League's fifth highest win total (320) and third-most home victories (181) in the League since the start of the 2005-06 season.

Trotz's modus operandi is using an aggressive system based on strong forechecking and sound defense to direct a hard-working group to the playoffs on an annual basis. His mission to get the most out of his team helped Trotz guide the Predators to their third-best record in franchise history and home ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Playoffs in 2011-12 (48-26-8, 104 points) despite starting the season with the NHL's youngest team at 25 years, five months. Under his watch, the Preds were one of only four teams to finish in the Top 10 in both goals for (eighth) and goals against (eighth), and one of three teams to rank in the League's Top 10 in both power-play percentage (first) and penalty kill percentage (10th) in 2011-12.

Trotz earn his second straight nomination for the Jack Adams Award in 2011 after guiding the Predators to the fifth seed in the Western Conference (44-27-11 record) despite losing 348 man-games due to injury, a number that ranked among the top three in the League, and being the fifth youngest roster down the stretch and the youngest among playoff teams (26 years, five months). In 2010, he was Jack Adams runner-up in his first time as an award finalist after leading his squad to a 100-point season (47-29-6).

Trotz also raked in the individual accolades following the 2006-07 campaign after guiding the Predators to the second-most points in the Western Conference and tied for the third-most points in the entire National Hockey League, notching franchise records in points (110), wins (51), road wins (23) and goals (272) in the process. He was named 2007 Coach of the Year by The Sporting News, an honor determined through a vote of his peers, in addition to finishing fourth in Jack Adams voting and serving as an assistant coach for the Western Conference All-Stars at the 2007 NHL All-Star Game.

The 50-year-old Dauphin, Manitoba native reached his goal of becoming an NHL head coach when he was named to his current position on Aug. 6, 1997. After a year aggressively scouting talent in North America and Europe, Trotz and his staff made the most of their opportunity by leading the inaugural edition (1998-99) of the Predators to a 28-47-7 record. Starting with a 3-2 victory over the Carolina Hurricanes on Oct. 13, 1998, the Predators' 28 wins were the third-most in expansion history.

Prior to joining the Predators, Trotz spent five seasons (1992-97) as the head coach of the Washington Capitals' primary developmental affiliate in the American Hockey League. He was named head coach of the Baltimore Skipjacks in 1992 after one season as an assistant coach. Following the franchise's relocation to Portland, Maine in 1993, he led the Portland Pirates to two Calder Cup Finals appearances over the next four seasons. In 1994-95, Trotz coached Portland to a Calder Cup Championship and a league-best 43-27-10 record and captured AHL Coach of the Year honors. In 2006, he was honored with election to the Pirates' Hall of Fame.

Trotz has also gained experience coaching on the international stage, serving as an assistant coach for Team Canada at the IIHF World Championships on three occasions. In 2003, he helped the Canadians strike gold in Finland, and in 2009 he helped guide Canada to a silver medal in Switzerland. The first time he answered the call for his nation came at the 2002 Championships in Sweden.

Trotz began his coaching career in 1984 as an assistant with the University of Manitoba. He then served two seasons (1985-87) as the head coach and general manager of the Dauphin Kings junior hockey club before returning to the University of Manitoba as the head coach in 1987. In January 2001, Trotz was inducted into the University's Hall of Fame.

COACHING STAFF

During the 1987 campaign, Trotz also served as a scout for the Spokane Chiefs (WHL) and a part-time scout for the Capitals. In 1988, he joined Washington as a full-time western scout, and the next season he became the Caps' chief western scout.

Before coaching, Trotz played junior hockey for Regina (WHL) from 1979-83, capturing a WHL championship in 1979-80. The defenseman registered 102 points (19g-83a) and 490 penalty minutes in 204 games.

The popular head coach and his family are active in a variety of service and charitable initiatives in the Middle Tennessee community. This commitment was recognized when Trotz was honored with the Community Spirit Award (in recognition for community service) at the 2005 O'Charley's Dinner of Champions, presented by the Nashville Sports Council.

Since the Predators inception, the Trotz's have donated $500 to My Friend's House (a United Way agency) for each Nashville victory, with donations surpassing the $250,000 mark in 2011-12. He is an active board member for Peterson for Parkinson's Foundation, the Williamson County YMCA and the United Way. He also works closely with Best Buddies of Tennessee, a nonprofit organization dedicated to establishing a global volunteer movement that creates opportunities for one-on-one friendships, integrated employment and leadership development for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

COACHING STAFF

PETER HORACHEK ASSOCIATE COACH

A member of the Nashville Predators coaching staff since June 19, 2003, Peter Horachek has helped lead the club to Stanley Cup Playoff berths in seven of his first eight seasons with the organization as both an assistant (2003-04 to 2010-11) and associate (2011-12) coach. Horachek has also helped the Predators reach the 40-win mark in each of the last seven seasons, while amassing the League's fifth-highest win total (320) since 2005-06.

Known for his energy, passion and knowledge of the game's tactics, Horachek has also played a significant role in Nashville's development of homegrown players which accounted for a franchise-record 22 of 34 players to appear in at least one game in 2011-12. He was also instrumental in Nashville's special teams' success in 2011-12 – the Predators were only one of three teams to finish in the Top 10 in both power play and penalty kill, leading the league for the first time ever with the man advantage.

Prior to joining the Predators, Horachek served as head coach of Nashville's primary developmental affiliate, the Milwaukee Admirals of the American Hockey League. He guided the 2002-03 Admirals to a 32-27-14-7 record and their first playoff series victory since 1998.

Horachek, the head coach/director of hockey operations for the ECHL's Nashville Knights in 1990-91, won championships as a coach and a player. In 2000-01, Horachek coached the Orlando Solar Bears to the International Hockey League championship. The Solar Bears went 12-4 in the Turner Cup Playoffs and Horachek was named the 2001 IHL Coach of the Year.

The Stoney Creek, Ont., native took over the coaching duties for Orlando in 1999 after serving as an assistant the previous four seasons. After the Orlando franchise ceased operations following the 2000-01 season, Horachek coached the Trenton Titans of the ECHL to a Northern Conference Championship (46-16-10, .708) in 2001-02.

Horachek began his coaching career in the IHL as an assistant coach with Saginaw in 1987-88. He spent one year as a player/assistant coach with Flint, and another as a player/head coach in Norway. Horachek was named head coach/director of hockey operations for the Knights (ECHL) in 1990.

As a player, Horachek held the title of team captain in four of his five seasons with the Saginaw/Flint Generals and won a Turner Cup Championship in 1984. He started his pro career with the AHL's Rochester Americans, playing in parts of four seasons (1979-83) with the club. In 545 career professional games, he tallied 188 goals and 238 assists (188g-238a-426pts).

Horachek and his wife, Stacy, reside in Franklin, Tenn. His son, Cullen, attends Kettering University in Northeastern Michigan.

LANE LAMBERT ASSISTANT COACH

Lane Lambert enters his second season as an assistant coach with the Predators in 2012-13 after spending the previous four seasons coaching the club's primary development affiliate in the American Hockey League, the Milwaukee Admirals. His responsibilities behind the bench include running the team's forward corps, in addition to heading up the penalty kill, which ranked among the League's Top 10 for the ninth time in the last 12 seasons in 2011-12.

During his time as head coach of the Admirals from 2007-11, Lambert led the club to a 178-103-39 record, the sixth-most wins in the AHL in that span, while giving up the second-fewest goals (821) in the league. Milwaukee posted 40-or-more wins and 90-or-more points all four seasons under Lambert as well, making them the first team in AHL history to reach the marks in eight consecutive campaigns. In addition to four straight Calder Cup Playoff berths, Lambert helped the Ads capture a pair of West Division titles, posting the Western Conference's highest point total in 2010-11 (102 pts, 44-22-14 record) despite seeing 10 of his core players recalled to the Predators during the season. He also captured a division title in 2008-09 when he led a young squad to 49-22-9 record, tying for the most points (107) in the AHL. The win total tied a club record since the team joined the AHL for the 2001-02 campaign.

Prior to joining the Admirals as an assistant coach in 2006-07, the Melfort, Saskatchewan native spent one season as an assistant for the AHL's Bridgeport Sound Tigers, the New York Islanders' AHL affiliate. Lambert started his coaching career in the Western Hockey League, spending parts of two seasons as head coach of the Prince George Cougars (2003-05) and parts of two campaigns as an assistant for the Moose Jaw Warriors (2002-04).

Lambert finished an 18-year playing career with the Houston Aeros in 2000-01. The Detroit Red Wings' second selection, 25th overall (second round), in the 1983 NHL Entry Draft, Lambert finished his NHL career with 125 points (58g-67a) and 521 penalty minutes in 283 games with Detroit, the New York Rangers and Quebec from 1983-89. Lambert enjoyed his most successful NHL campaign with the Nordiques in 1987-88, recording career-highs in points (41) and assists (28) in 61 contests.

The 47-year old Lambert also gained significant playing experience in both the American and International Hockey Leagues, posting a combined 238 points (113g-125a) in 417 games. He won an AHL Calder Cup title with Adirondack in 1986, and helped the Houston Aeros claim the IHL's Turner Cup championship in 1999.

COACHING STAFF

DAVID GOOD STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

David Good enters his ninth season as the strength and conditioning coach of the Nashville Predators. He joined the Predators in July of 2004 and is responsible for preparing and supervising workout programs for all players in the Predators system. Good also runs the club's prospect development program and the off-ice aspects of the Predators Hockey School in the off-season and during the summer of 2010, he designed and outfitted the new weight room at Bridgestone Arena to facilitate optimal in-season training.

Good was instrumental in developing a program for Steve Sullivan that allowed the Predators forward to return to the ice on January 12, 2009 after almost a two-year absence that included missing 142 straight regular-season games and 11 playoff games due to a back injury. In June of 2009, Sullivan won the NHL's Bill Masterton Memorial Trophy given "to the player that best exemplifies the qualities of perseverance, sportsmanship and dedication to hockey."

Prior to joining the Predators, Good served as the director of speed-strength and conditioning for West Coast Sports Performance and Center for Athlete Medicine in Manhattan Beach, Calif., and also served as a consultant for the Long Beach Ice Dogs (ECHL). The Colorado native served as the assistant speed-strength and conditioning coach for the Los Angeles Kings from 1999-2003 and held the same title from 1997-99 with the Ice Dogs (IHL). He also served as strength and conditioning coordinator at Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles from 1998-99.

Before moving to California, Good served as the student assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Colorado for two years. He received his bachelor of arts degree in kinesiology from the University of Colorado at Boulder along with certifications in strength and conditioning, sports conditioning, Olympic weightlifting and kettlebell training.

MITCH KORN GOALTENDING COACH

Mitch Korn is in his 15th season as the goaltending coach for the Predators and in his 22nd season in the NHL. He works with all netminders in the Nashville system, including those playing in Milwaukee (AHL), Cincinnati (ECHL), amateur leagues and Europe.

The well-known goaltending coach has helped several Nashville goaltenders burst onto the NHL scene, the most recent being back-to-back Vezina Trophy finalist Pekka Rinne. The Kempele, Finland has finished in the Top 10 in Hart Trophy voting each of the last two seasons and over the past four seasons, ranks second among NHL netminders in shutouts (25), fifth in both save percentage (.921) and goals-against average (2.35), and tied for sixth in the NHL in wins (137).

Korn's success cultivating netminders for the organization dates back to the 1998 Expansion Draft. Two-time Czech Olympian, 2010 World Champion and NHL All-Star Tomas Vokoun developed into one of the NHL's elite under his watch, while Chris Mason would follow, becoming a legitimate NHL starter after several seasons of working with Korn. In 2007-08, Dan Ellis developed into a No. 1 goalie after playing in just one NHL game prior to joining the Predators, leading the NHL in save percentage (.924) in his first full campaign, before giving way to rookie Rinne in 2008-09. Anders Lindback – a seventh-round selection (207th overall) in the 2008 Entry Draft – spend two seasons under Korn's tutelage after becoming just the third player to make the Predators out of training camp with no prior North American pro experience, and has now moved on to the Tampa Bay Lightning where he get a chance to become a starting netminder.

Before joining the Predators on July 23, 1998, Korn spent seven seasons in the Buffalo Sabres organization, where he enjoyed great success while working with two-time Hart Trophy-winner Dominik Hasek. While working with Korn, Hasek captured four Vezina Trophies and led the NHL in save percentage five times. Korn also saw Buffalo's goaltending tandem (Hasek and Hall-of-Famer Grant Fuhr) capture the NHL's Jennings Trophy (lowest team goals-against average) during the 1994-95 season. In addition to goaltenders, Korn has also developed goalie coaches, with several who have learned under him serving around North America, including five currently at the NHL level.

The New York City native has more than 35 years of coaching experience, beginning his coaching career at Kent State University in 1979 shortly after ending his playing career at the school. He worked at Miami University's Goggin Ice Center in Oxford, Ohio for 30 years until his retirement in 2010, coaching the school's goalies until joining the Sabres in 1991. Korn, who runs goaltending and defensemen schools around the country in the off-season, also has contributed regularly to several hockey publications including USA Hockey Magazine, Goalies' World and In-Goal Magazine.

He also spent three years (1987-89) in the Cleveland Indians organization as the athletic trainer for their developmental clubs. He served two stints as a graduate assistant with Radnor High School (Radnor, Pa.) and Temple University Sports Medicine Center.

PETE ROGERS HEAD EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Pete Rogers is in his 15th season as head equipment manager of the Nashville Predators. He is responsible for the everyday equipment needs of all the players as well as coordinating transfer of equipment to and from road games. Rogers works with the NHL to ensure compliance with programs concerning equipment tracking, jersey authentication and on-ice exposure. He also played an integral role in the team's new uniform design, working with the manufacturer and League to ensure all specifications and materials met the exact demands necessary to put the product on the ice for the 2011-12 season.

Elected President of the Society of Professional Hockey Equipment Managers (SPHEM) in June 2012 after previously serving as its Western Conference Representative, Rogers was the head equipment manager for the Eastern Conference All-Stars at the 2008 NHL All-Star game in Dallas. The coordinator of the SPHEM's Enhanced Education program has also served as the equipment manager for Team USA at the 2006 Winter Olympics and at the IIHF World Championships in 2005 and from 1998-2002. Rogers also worked as Team USA's equipment manager at the 2004 World Cup of Hockey and the 2004 Deutschland Cup in Germany. The veteran worked his 1,500th game as an equipment manager in professional hockey on January 10, 2009 and his 1000th game with the Predators on November 12, 2011.

Prior to joining the Predators in July 1998, the SUNY Brockport graduate spent seven seasons as the equipment manager and director of team travel for the Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League. BROADCASTERS

PETE WEBER PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

"Voice of the Predators" Pete Weber (Twitter: @PeteWeberSports) enters his 15th season as the team's primary play-by-play announcer in 2012-13. His insight into the team and the game of hockey is a regular feature in local sports talk radio and television, and he also consistently contributes to the Predators' website and team publications. In January 2012, Weber was named the Tennessee Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association.

Pete is slated to be a "Western Conference Insider" on Sirius/XM Satellite Radio's "NHL Home Ice" shows (XM 204) once again in 2012-13, and is slated to join "Slapshot Radio" as a co-host this season. In addition to his duties with the team, Weber co-hosted SportsNight (a popular local sportstalk radio program) from July 2003 until August 2005 and has filled in as a program host for ESPN Radio. He has also called the Music City Bowl and done games for the Triple-A baseball Nashville Sounds' broadcasts, in addition to producing and hosting weekly podcasts: "This Week in the Minor Leagues" and the syndicated "Southern Pro Football."

Weber spent two seasons (1995-97) as the radio play-by-play announcer for the Buffalo Sabres, three seasons (1978-81) as the color analyst for the Los Angeles Kings and also served as host of "Hockey Night with the Buffalo Sabres" from 1990-93. Along with his 23 seasons of NHL experience, Weber has served as a play-by-play voice in baseball (Buffalo Bisons, 1983-95), basketball (Seattle SuperSonics, 1981-82) and football (University of Buffalo, 1992). He has called the hockey action for the University of Notre Dame (1974-76) and the University at Buffalo (1976-78) and was part of the Buffalo Bills' broadcast team during their four Super Bowl seasons (1990-93).

Weber was inducted into the Buffalo Baseball Hall of Fame in 1999. He has won Mid-South Regional Emmys for his work on Predators' broadcasts in 2003, 2008 and 2010. He also sits on the National Academy of TV Arts and Sciences Nashville/Mid-South Chapter's Board of Governors.

BRIDGESTONE ARENA

ARENA INFORMATION & POWERS MANAGEMENT

Powers Management
Bridgestone Arena • 501 Broadway
(615) 770-2000 • Fax (615) 770-2010

Bridgestone Arena opened in December 1996 and has hosted more than 13 million guests. It is Nashville's number one venue for large-scale musical productions, as well as one of the nation's most highly-acclaimed entertainment and sports venues. Seating capacity is approximately 20,000 for concerts, 19,395 for basketball and 17,113 for Nashville Predators games.

Formerly known as the Nashville Arena, the Gaylord Entertainment Center and the Sommet Center, the building became Bridgestone Arena in 2010 after Bridgestone Americas Inc., which is headquartered in Nashville, entered into a multi-year naming-rights and marketing partnership with the Predators and Powers Management. Bridgestone Americas, Inc. (BSAM) is the U.S. subsidiary of Bridgestone Corporation, the world's largest tire and rubber company.

Initiated by former Nashville Mayor Phil Bredesen and approved by the Metro/Davidson County Council in 1993, Bridgestone Arena uniquely embraces Nashville's heritage as "Music City, U.S.A." Bridgestone Arena was designed as a tribute to Nashville's music roots, with the entrance positioned on the corner of Fifth Avenue and historic Broadway, facing the Ryman Auditorium – the original home of the Grand Ole Opry. The one million-square-foot facility has also spurred downtown growth in the last eight years, inspiring further development that includes the Country Music Hall of Fame, the Frist Museum of the Visual Arts, the Schermerhorn Symphony Center and the soon-to-be opened Music City Center. A number of downtown living options – including several new condominiums – continue to spring up in close proximity to Bridgestone Arena.

A report issued in 2012 estimated that Bridgestone Arena and the Nashville Predators generate an annual economic impact of approximately $410 million. More than 2,350 jobs are supported annually by the Nashville Predators and Bridgestone Arena. Nearly two-thirds of attendees at all Bridgestone Arena events come from outside of Davidson County, creating a pure economic impact to Davidson County in dollars spent by out-of-county visitors.

Bridgestone Arena also hosts a variety of non-traditional functions for Davidson County, the city of Nashville and local residents. Bridgestone Arena tower is home to the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame, an XM Radio studio and the Nashville Convention and Visitors Bureau, which hosts more than 500,000 tourists annually. Bridgestone Arena features The Patrón Platinum Club, a 260-seat fine-dining experience located on the building's suite level, which is open before and after games and concerts, and hosts a number of banquets and receptions.

The arena also houses more than 6,000 square feet of meeting room space and a 13,500-square-foot rehearsal hall that is available for rent and used more than 200 days a year by national touring acts. Metro's Registry of Deeds and the Metro North Police precinct are also located inside the Bridgestone Arena

Bridgestone Arena is home of the CMA Awards, CMT Music Awards, the NHL's Nashville Predators, upcoming SEC Men's Basketball Tournaments in 2013, 2015, 2016 and 2019 and the NCAA Women's Final Four 2014.

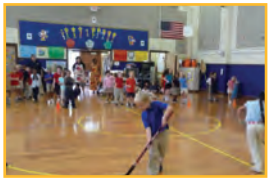
Hockey Rules presented by UnitedHealthcare is a free, traveling, interactive hockey experience that aims to educate elementary and middle school students on basic hockey skills and the Nashville Predators. During the school year, Hockey Rules visits more than 35 schools, reaching more than 5,000 students. The Predators provide all necessary equipment and instruction at no cost. The program continues into the summer as the Hockey Rules Summerfest Tour presented by UnitedHealthcare travels to youth camps, educating young fans on the sport of hockey.



BLUELINER OF THE GAME

An opportunity to experience the excitement from ice level offered as a ticket package during Predators home games. Youth hockey players get the opportunity of a lifetime as their name is called during the starting lineup, they skate to the blue line, then stand alongside their favorite Predators player during the National Anthem.

YOUTH HOCKEY & FAN DEVELOPMENT

PREDATORS HOCKEY SCHOOL

The Predators host a hockey school each July at A-Game in Franklin which is open to boys and girls ages 8-14. Youth attending the hockey school are challenged daily with more than two hours of ice time, intensive dry-land conditioning, video analysis and "chalk talk" sessions. Hockey School emphasizes the basic fundamentals of hockey – stickhandling, power skating, shooting and passing.

Other features of the camp include daily lectures on nutrition, injury prevention, equipment maintenance and perspectives from the Predators scouting and coaching staffs.

The Predators also host the "Little Preds" Hockey School, an evening summertime camp at both A-Game in Franklin and Centennial Sportsplex in Nashville. The school is offered to children ages 5-8.

COACHES CORNER

In an ongoing effort to foster and improve youth hockey opportunities in Middle Tennessee, the Nashville Predators offer support to youth hockey coaches at all levels. Through partnerships with online coaching tool flexxCOACH and USA Hockey, the Predators are able to present tools that any coach can use to improve his or her knowledge, and in turn, the team's on-ice performance.

PREDATORS CUP

The Predators Cup is the annual Tennessee State High School Hockey Championship tournament. Established during the 1999-00 season, it serves as a platform to highlight the top high school hockey teams in the state and is hosted by the Nashville Predators each spring at Bridgestone Arena. Since the inaugural tournament, 10 teams from Middle Tennessee, three teams from Memphis and one team from Knoxville have won the Predators Cup.

JERSEY SPONSORSHIP

As an ongoing partnership, the Nashville Predators partner with local ice hockey leagues as their official jersey provider. More than 700 youth hockey players on 48 teams at Centennial Sportsplex in Nashville and A-Game in Franklin wear the Predators logo. When the sponsorship started during the 2008-09 season, it marked the first time in club history that the Predator logo was worn by area hockey associations, strengthening the relationship between the youth hockey community and the NHL Club.

SKATE AT BRIDGESTONE ARENA

Since the Predators inaugural season in 1998-99, thousands of youth hockey players have had the opportunity to skate on the same surface as NHL players. As a ticket fundraiser program, "Mites on Ice" is offered to hockey teams ages 9-and-under for the chance to skate in front of 17,000-plus fans during intermissions at select Predator home games. Adult and youth hockey teams can also skate on the same as ice as the pros through the "Rink of Dreams" program. Teams have the opportunity play an exhibition game at Bridgestone Arena before or after a Nashville home game to raise money for their team. In 2008, the team announced a joint venture with the Greater Nashville Area Scholastic Hockey League (GNASH) that will see area high school teams play at Bridgestone Arena as the featured High School Game of the Week.

NASHVILLE JR. PREDATORS

For the 2012-13 season, the Nashville Predators minor hockey affiliate Nashville Jr. Predators enter their fourth season offering Tier I/II youth travel hockey to families in the Greater Nashville area. This season, the Jr. Predators program will field 15 teams (3 AA Elite, 9 AA, 3 AA Developmental) from the following age divisions: Mite (8-and-under), Squirt (ages 8-10), Peewee (ages 10-12), Bantam (ages 12-14), and Midget (ages 14-18).

For more information on these programs, please visit nashvillepredators.com/youthhockey or contact the Predators Youth Hockey & Fan Development Department at (615) 770-2372.

ADMIRALS COACHING STAFF

DEAN EVASON HEAD COACH

Dean Evason was named the 20th coach in Milwaukee Admirals history on June 19, 2012 and enters his first season with the organization in 2012-13. Prior to joining the Admirals, Evason spent seven seasons as an assistant coach with the Washington Capitals, helping them claim four straight Southeast Division titles, reach the Stanley Cup Playoffs in each of the past five seasons (2008-12) and win the 2010 President's Trophy.

In his time as an assistant in Washington from 2005-12, the Capitals compiled a 294-206-74 record (.577). Evason's responsibilities included face-offs – helping the Caps finish among the NHL's Top 10 five times – the penalty kill – which finished as high as second in the League under his watch (2010-11) - while also being in charge of the team's forwards.

Prior to joining the Capitals, Evason spent six seasons as a head coach in the Western Hockey League. He began his coaching career with the Kamloops Blazers – where his roster included Predators 2002 first-round pick Scottie Upshall – compiling a 109-83-17 record in three seasons from 1999-2002. Evason moved on to guide the Vancouver Giants to back-to-back playoff appearances in 2002-03 and 2003-04, before co-coaching the Calgary Hitmen to a 34-23-9-6 record in 2004-05 on a team that included NHL stars Andrew Ladd and Ryan Getzlaf.

Washington's third selection, 89th overall (third round), in the 1982 Entry Draft, Evason amassed 372 points (139g-233a) and 1,002 penalty minutes in 803 NHL games with the Capitals, Hartford Whalers, San Jose Sharks, Dallas Stars and Calgary Flames from 1983-96. This included a pair of season playing under then-Washington General Manager David Poile (1983-85) and three seasons as a teammate of Predators Assistant General Manager Paul Fenton in both the Hartford (1984-86) and San Jose (1991-92) organizations. He served as a player/coach for Team Canada during the 1996-97 season, captaining the team to a gold medal at the 1997 World Championship. He wound down his career as a player/coach with Landshut of the German League in 1997-98 and 1998-99.

A native of Flin Flon, Man., Evason is an honored member of the Manitoba Hockey Hall of Fame. He and his wife, Sherri, have three children – Bryce, Brianne and Brooke.

STAN DRULIA ASSISTANT COACH

Stan Drulia enters his first full season as an assistant coach for the Milwaukee Admirals after being named to the position on December 5, 2011. In his role as assistant, Drulia runs the defensive corps, and is in charge of pre-scouting opponents, the penalty kill, and face-offs. Despite missing the team's first 20 games of the 2011-12 season, he quickly transitioned into his role, helping the Admirals advance to the Calder Cup Playoffs for the 10th consecutive season.

Prior to joining Milwaukee, Drulia served as head coach for the ECHL's Wheeling Nailers, compiling a 49-35-5 record. During his last full season with the Nailers in 2010-11, the Elmira, N.Y., native led the club to a 38-29-5 record and a spot in the Eastern Conference Finals. Eighteen players from the squad saw promotions to the American Hockey League during the course of the season.

Drulia spent four seasons in Port Huron from 2006-10, one with the United Hockey League's Flags, and three with the International Hockey League's Icehawks. In his three seasons at the IHL level, Drulia amassed a 132-75-21 record. In 2007-08, he guided the Icehawks to a 41-29-6 record, then to the Turner Cup Finals where they fell in a game seven overtime. In 2008-09, Drulia led Port Huron to a 44-21-11 mark and was selected IHL Coach of the Year.

Prior to one season as an assistant with the Toledo Storm (ECHL) in 2005-06, Drulia served as head coach of the ECHL's Augusta Lynx (2003-05), and in his only year as the head coach of the Orlando Seals of the Atlantic Coast Hockey League in 2002-03, he guided the club to the league title, earning ACHL Coach of the Year honors.

Pittsburgh's 11th selection, 214th overall (11th round), in the 1986 Entry Draft, Drulia played 13 professional seasons from 1989-2001, including 126 NHL games with the Tampa Bay Lightning (15g-27a-42pts). He won two Turner Cups as IHL champions in 1994 with the Atlanta Knights and in 1997 with the Detroit Vipers, and was the recipient of the N.R. "Bud" Poile award – named after Predators GM David Poile's father – as IHL Playoff MVP on two occasions (1994 and 1999). Drulia posted three 100-plus point seasons - he won the scoring title and was ECHL MVP with the Knoxville Cherokees in 1990-91 (63g-77a-140pts), ranked second in goals and third in points with both the AHL's New Haven Nighthawks in 1991-92 (49g-53a-102pts), and the Knights in 1993-94 (54g-60a-114pts). In total, he accumulated 823 points (366g-457a) in 671 minor league games.

Before turning pro, Drulia amassed 479 points (198g-281a) in 296 Ontario Hockey League games with Belleville, Hamilton and Niagara Falls from 1984-89 – a league point record that still stands today.

PLAYOFF BOUND - SEVEN OF EIGHT SEASONS

In 2011-12, Nashville became one of just five teams to make the postseason in seven of the last eight seasons - Detroit, New Jersey, Philadelphia and San Jose are the others. The Predators posted at least 40 wins for the seventh consecutive season; Detroit and San Jose are they only other teams to accomplish the feat. The Preds hit the 40-win mark in just 68 games in 2011-12 - the third fastest in franchise history. The team's 48 victories in 2011-12 were the third-most in franchise history and their 320 wins dating back to the beginning of the 2005-06 season are the fifth-most in the League.

The Predators notched 104 points - the third-highest point total in franchise history, and good for fifth in the NHL during the 11-12 campaign. It was also the fourth time the Predators have eclipsed the 100-point mark in the club's 14-year history. Nashville's 698 points since the beginning of the 2005-06 season are fifth-most in the NHL, just one behind New Jersey for fourth place.

HOME ICE ADVANTAGE

Nashville has been one of the League's best teams on home ice since the beginning of the 2005-06 season, compiling 181 home victories, ranking third behind Detroit (189) and San Jose (182) in that span. The Predators are the only team in the NHL to post at least 23 home victories in seven consecutive seasons. The Predators went 22-5-2 in their last 29 home games during the 2011-12 season to finish with a 26-10-5 mark on home ice - the most home wins in five seasons.

The Predators sold out Bridgestone Arena for the final eight regular season games in 2011-12, tying the franchise-long eight-game sellout streak hit earlier that season (Dec. 15, 2011-Jan. 7, 2012). The Predators sold out a franchise-record 25 games in 2011-12 - surpassing the previous record of 20 sellouts established in 1999-2000. Bridgestone Arena averaged 16,690 fans per home game during the 2011-12 campaign - 97.5 percent capacity. That total set another franchise mark for highest average attendance in a single season, surpassing the 1999-2000 season, when the Predators averaged 16,600 fans per game.

IN GOOD COMPANY

The Predators finished the 2011-12 season with the fourth-most points (104) in the Western Conference and held home ice advantage in the Stanley Cup Playoffs for the third time in franchise history. The Predators finished the season ranked among the League's Top 10 in several key categories:

- Nashville posted the League's fifth-most points during the regular season, and tied with Vancouver and Philadelphia for third in regulation/overtime victories (43).
- Nashville ranked eighth in goals per game (2.83) and tied for eighth in goals-against average (2.50) in 2011-12. Only Boston, Detroit and Vancouver also ranked among the League's Top 10 in both goals for and goals against.
- The Predators were one of just three teams to rank in the League's Top 10 in both power-play percentage (first) and penalty kill percentage (10th) during the 2011-12 campaign. Vancouver and Pittsburgh were the only other teams to rank in the Top 10 in both categories. Prior to 2011-12, Nashville had never ranked higher than 10th in power-play efficiency, while the PK finished in the Top 10 for the eighth time in the last 12 seasons. Nashville's special teams finished a +15 in 2011-12, compared to +3 the season prior.

NASHVILLE PREDATORS RECORD 500 WINS

Nashville notched its 500th win in franchise history against Detroit on March 30, 2012. The Predators accomplished the feat in just 1,062 regular season games - the fastest of any expansion team established after 1990. The Ottawa Senators are second on that list - the Sens hit 500 wins in 1,145 games.

The General Manager-Head Coach tandem of David Poile and Barry Trotz - the only two gentlemen to hold their respective positions in Nashville Predators franchise history - also posted their 500th career victories with the franchise on March 30, 2012 against Detroit.

Poile is the first general manager in NHL history to guide two separate clubs to at least 500 wins, after posting 594 victories with the Washington Capitals from 1982-97. He is also the only general manager in NHL history to record at least 1,000 games with two different teams. Earlier in the 2011-12 season, Poile passed Harry Sinden for second on the all-time GM list for games (2,245), putting him behind only Glen Sather in the category.

Trotz became just the fifth bench boss to post 500 wins with a single franchise (Al Arbour, NYI; Lindy Ruff, BUF; Billy Reay, CHI and Toe Blake, MTL). With 503 victories in his career, Trotz ranks third in wins with a single franchise and 15th on the all-time coaching wins list. He ranks third behind only Arbour and Ruff in games coached with a single team (1,066). The Dauphin, Man., native is one of just four coaches in expansion-team history (among the four major sports) to have a record better than .500.

COMEBACK KINGS

The Predators overcame a two- or- three-goal deficit to win on seven occasions in 2011-12. In those come-from-behind victories, the Predators outscored their opponents 14-3 (+11) in the third period and notched three overtime winners. Nashville overcame just three two-goal deficits during the 2010-11 season.

The Predators were the only team in 2011-12 to record two regulation wins after trailing by three goals, doing so on Jan 31, 2012, when they downed the Minnesota Wild, 5-4, by scoring four goals in the final 10:38 of regulation, and on Dec. 22, 2011, when the Preds scored the game winner with just nine seconds left in regulation in a 6-5 win over Columbus at Bridgestone Arena. Nashville trailed by scores of 4-1 and 5-2 in those contests. Nashville recorded five more two-goal comebacks – on Nov. 5, 2011, as the Predators looked at a 3-1 deficit to San Jose going into the final frame, but notched two goals in the final 20 minutes to force overtime and tallied the game-winner just 2:53 into the four-on-four period to win, 4-3; on Dec. 1, 2011, the Predators topped Vancouver 6-5 at Rogers Arena after trailing 5-3 midway through the second; against Columbus on Dec. 8, the Predators overcame two-goal deficits twice, the last coming when they scored two extra-attacker goals in the final 1:36 of regulation to force overtime – where the Preds topped the Jackets 4-3; against Detroit on Dec. 17, 2011, Nashville tallied the game-tying and game-winning goals in the final 4:24 to win 4-3; finally, on Jan. 12, 2012, the Predators trailed Colorado, 2-0, but responded with three consecutive goals to defeat the Avs in overtime.

DEADLINE DEALERS

The Predators bolstered their line-up in the final portion of the 2011-12 season with the addition of forwards Paul Gaustad and Andrei Kostitsyn, and defenseman Hal Gill. The Predators dealt for Gill on Feb. 17, 2012; he appeared in 23 games for the Predators in 2011-12, posting five points (5a). He blocked a total of 161 shots in 2011-12, which ranked him among the NHL's Top 15 players in the category. Nashville began deadline day by acquiring Kostitsyn in its second transaction with Montreal in 10 days. The elder Kostitsyn appeared in 19 games for Nashville, posting 12 points (4g-8a), including three multiple-point games between March 3-10. The Predators final transaction of deadline day saw them acquire Gaustad from Buffalo. The Portland, Ore., native appeared in 14 games for Nashville, posting four points (4a). He led the Predators and finished among the NHL's Top 10 in face-offs for the third consecutive season in 2011-12 (seventh, 57.3 percent). Gaustad was third in 2010-11, 59.8 percent and sixth in 2009-10, 57.4 percent. Gill (3:28) and Gaustad (2:45) finished the season first and second on the Predators in shorthanded ice time per game.

NASHVILLE'S NORRIS WORTHY DUO

In 2011-12, the Predators were led by arguably the best defensive pairing in the sport – 2012 All-Star Ryan Suter and 2012 Norris Trophy runner-up Shea Weber. The duo was the only defensive tandem in the NHL to post at least 45 points apiece during the 2011-12 campaign.

Suter posted a career-high 46 points (7g-39a) in 2011-12, surpassing his previous highs in points and assists (7g-38a-45pts) set in 2008-09. Those totals tied him for 10th among NHL blueliners this season. Suter notched his 200th career assist against Chicago on March 31, 2012, becoming just the fourth player in franchise history to hit the mark. The Madison, Wis., native ranked third among NHL blueliners in power-play points and assists (3g-22a-25pts), and he compiled the third-highest average ice time in the League (26:30), 21 seconds ahead of Weber (26:09), who finished fifth.

Weber finished the 2011-12 season ranked sixth among blueliners with 49 points (19g-30a), while his 19 goals tied Erik Karlsson for the top spot among defensemen. The Sicamous, B.C., native and back-to-back Norris runner-up finished the season one point shy of cracking the 50-point plateau for the second time in his career. Weber posted a career-high 22 power-play points (10g-12a) in 2011-12 – he ranked among the Top 10 defensemen in power-play points and led all NHL d-men with 10 power-play goals on the year, which tied his career high (2008-09). Weber was +21 on the season – that was the highest rating of his career and the highest by a defenseman in club history. It is also the second-highest in franchise history, behind only David Legwand (+23, 2006-07). Weber's +21 rating ranked him second among defensemen with at least 40 points in 2011-12, behind only Boston's Zdeno Chara.

2011-12 QUICK HITS

- Nashville finished the regular season ranked in the Top 10 of each of the following categories: points, goals for, goals against, power play and penalty kill. The Presidents' Trophy-winning Vancouver Canucks were the only other team to do so in 2011-12.
- After starting the season 12-11-4 in its first 27 games, Nashville posted a 36-15-4 record in its final 55 contests to finish second in the Central Division. The Predators were outscored 73-70 in the first 27, before outscoring the opposition 162-132 in the next 55 games.
- The Predators posted a 16-5-3 (.729) record against the Central Division, which along with the Atlantic, became the first two divisions to have four teams reach the 100-point plateau since the NHL went to its current format for the 1993-94 season. That was good for the third-best intra-divisional winning percentage behind Boston (19-4-1, .813) and Vancouver (18-5-1, .771), each of whom were the lone 100-point teams in the Northeast and Northwest Divisions, respectively.
- The Predators were assessed the fewest penalty minutes in NHL during the 2011-12 season (689), and were shorthanded three times or fewer in 54 of their 82 games, going 34-17-3 in those contests.
- The Predators outshot their opponent just 24 times in 2011-12, tied for the fewest in the League, but posted the League's second-best winning percentage in those situations (15-5-4, .625).
- The Predators posted the League's second-most wins (36) and the second-best winning percentage (.702) in games decided by two goals or less. They finished 2011-12 tops in the Western Conference in both categories.
- The Preds posted the League's second-best winning percentage when scoring first in 2011-12 (35-3-4, .833), trailing only Boston.
- Nashville gave up the fewest second-period goals in the League in 2011-12 (55), while scoring the fourth-most third-frame markers, and most in the Western Conference (91).
- Nashville scored 37 goals in the final 90 seconds of periods in 2011-12, seven of which were game-winners and 21 of which came in the final period of play.
- The Predators posted a 19-4-4 record on weekends versus a 29-22-4 mark on weekdays.

PEKKA POWERS THE PREDS

Goaltender Pekka Rinne posted a franchise-record and League-leading 43 victories during the 2011-12 season en route to his second consecutive Vezina Trophy nomination. The Kempele, Finland native also led the League in shots against (2,153), saves (1,987) and he tied for first in appearances (73). Rinne also finished the season among the NHL's Top 10 goaltenders in save percentage (.923). Since the beginning of the 2008-09 season, he has posted the second-most shutouts (25) and tied for the sixth-most wins (137) among all goaltenders. Rinne led all goaltenders with five assists in 2011-12, making him the only goaltender since Martin Brodeur (1999-2000 and 2005-06) to lead the League in both wins and points.

Rinne posted a franchise-record 11-game win streak from Jan. 7-Feb. 4, 2012, matching the longest single-season win streak by an NHL goaltender in the last 13 seasons. Since 1998-99, only four other goalies have recorded 11 straight wins in a single season: Patrick Roy (1998-99), Martin Brodeur (twice: 2000-01 and 2005-06), Martin Biron (2005-06) and Marc-Andre Fleury (2010-11). That performance helped Rinne earn Third Star of the Month honors for January 2012, after posting an 11-1-0 record during the month, marking just the third time since the start of the 2005-06 season that a netminder has recorded more than 10 wins in a month (Jimmy Howard, 12 in March 2010 and Ray Emery, 12 in March 2006).

THE 10-12-74 LINE

The line of Martin Erat, Mike Fisher and Sergei Kostitsyn was the driving force behind the Predators' offense during the second half of the 2011-12 season, as the trio was in on 67 of Nashville's 136 goals (49.2 percent) from Jan. 1 to the end of the regular season.

Erat notched a career-high 58 points (19g-39a) in just 71 games, making him the only player in franchise history to post at least 50 points more than three times in his career. The Trebic, Czech Republic native was nearly a point-per-game player (11g-24a-35pts) in his final 38 games and ranked among the League's Top 20 point getters during that span. He finished the 2011-12 season as Nashville's most accurate shooter and the ninth-most accurate in the League, scoring 19 goals on 107 shots (17.8 percent).

Fisher notched 51 points (24g-27a) in 72 games during the 2011-12 campaign, giving him at least 50 points for the second time in his career. He posted a career-high 53 points (25g-28a) during the 2009-10 season with Ottawa. Fisher tallied 36 points (17g-19a) in 42 games from Jan. 1 to the end of the regular season, and his 17 goals from that date on saw him finish second on the team in the category (24). He also tallied seven game-winners during the regular season to rank among the League's Top 15 in the category and just one shy of the franchise record. Fisher was a +11 in 2011-12 despite playing against the most difficult quality of competition among all Nashville forwards (behindthenet.ca). He led all Nashville forwards in average ice time as well (minimum 20 games, 19:17), and the Predators posted a 16-1-3 record when Fisher scored.

Kostitsyn finished the 2011-12 season tied for sixth in team scoring (17g-26a-43pts), after posting 16 points (5g-11a) in his last 28 games of the regular season. The younger of Nashville's Kostitsyn brothers ranked among the NHL's most accurate shooters during the 2011-12 campaign, scoring 17 goals on 97 shots (10th in the NHL, 17.5 percent).

Smith also holds the franchise record for power-play points by a rookie (6g-7a-13pts). PLAYOFF NOTES
2012 WESTERN CONFERENCE QUARTERFINALS

BOURQUE POSTSEASON SUCCESS
First-year forward Gabriel Bourque recorded the best postseason series by a Predators' rookie during the 2012 Western Conference Quarterfinals against the Detroit Red Wings. In Game One, Bourque became just the third player in the last 14 playoff years to record two goals in his NHL playoff debut - Alexander Radulov (2007) and Washington's Mike Green (2008) are the others. Bourque then tied Alexander Radulov's franchise record for the most goals in a playoff season by first-year player (3) with his goal in Game Four vs. Detroit. The Rimouski, Que., native closed out his first WCQ series with the most points (3g-1a-4pts) and the highest plus-minus rating (+5) by a Predators' rookie in a single series all-time.

RADULOV RETURNS
Forward Alexander Radulov took the ice for the Predators in the playoffs for the first time since 2008, after spending the previous four seasons with Salavat Yulaev Ufa of the KHL. Radulov registered five points (1g-4a) in five games during the 2012 Western Conference Quarterfinals against Detroit, including a postseason franchise-record four-game assist streak (Games Two thru Five). Nine (3g-6a) of Radulov's 14 career postseason points have come against Detroit.

SHUTTING DOWN THE WINGS
In the 2012 Western Conference Quarterfinals, Nashville held Detroit to just nine goals in five games - the lowest goals against total for a series in franchise postseason history. That total included allowing just three goals in the two games at Joe Louis Arena, which is also a franchise record. Though the Predator's penalty kill surrendered four goals on 23 times shorthanded in the series, they held the Red Wings - the NHL's best five-on-five team during the regular season - to just four goals at full and even strength. In those situations Nashville outscored Detroit 11-4. Overall, the Predators recorded a +4 goal advantage (13-9) in the series, which was the largest margin in postseason history, and included a +3 advantage (6-3) on the road.

DETROIT SERIES QUICK HITS
Nashville won a series for the second time in franchise history. It was the first time the Preds have defeated an opponent in less than six games... The Predators tallied the fewest shots in postseason history (116), but they also allowed the fewest shots against (160) all-time... Pekka Rinne recorded three consecutive wins (Games Three thru Five) - the longest stretch in franchise postseason history... Francis Bouillon posted the highest single series +/- rating (+6) in Predators' postseason history... Nashville has now played more playoff games (17) against Detroit than any other team in its seven trips to the postseason.

RINK PARTNERSHIPS

NEW COMMUNITY RINK SET TO DEBUT

As a provision of the new lease agreement between the city of Nashville and Bridgestone Arena, signed in June 2012, a community ice rink is set to be built in Davidson County in the not too distant future. The rink development is a component of a public-private partnership between Metro and the Nashville Predators that will help continue growth of hockey in Middle Tennessee, setting the franchise up for future success. The Nashville Predators envision this rink as a springboard for creating new fans, ensuring more and more kids are putting a hockey stick in their hands at an early age.

CENTENNIAL SPORTSPLEX

222 25th Avenue North
Nashville, TN 37203
(615) 862-8480

The Thomas Frist Centennial Sportsplex is operated by the Metro Board of Parks and Recreation in Nashville. The facility was made possible by a landmark land exchange between Metro Parks and healthcare provider Hospital Corporation of America (HCA). The city exchanged 10 prime acres adjacent to Centennial Park for $12 million. The money was used to build the Sportsplex.

The $20 million, 145,000 square-foot Sportsplex features a tennis center, a fitness center, an aquatics center and two full-size ice rinks. The aquatics center, named after Olympian Tracy Caulkins, has been the site of numerous U.S. Senior and Junior National Swim Meets, the YMCA National Swim Meet and, to date, still holds one of the fastest times ever swam for the men's 50-meter freestyle, set in the inaugural swim meet in February 1990 by Olympian Tom Jager.

The ice arena is home to the Nashville Predators' practice facility which opened on February 1, 1999. The building holds offices for Predators coaching staff and hockey operations department, a full dressing room, weight room and athletic training wing.

The Sportsplex is also the home of the Predators' summer development camp and training camp.

In addition, Centennial Sportsplex hosts adult hockey leagues, figure skating, numerous public sessions, figure skating competitions, ice shows, hockey tournaments and camps. In 1997, it was one of the sites for the USFSA National Championships.

The fitness center includes free weights and weight machines for complete workouts as well as daily aerobics classes, and plans are underway to build a new $2 million state of the art fitness center to be open in late 2012.

Centennial Sportsplex offers instructional classes in skating, swimming and tennis, as well as public usage in each of those areas. The ice arena and aquatic area also offers special rates for parties, schools and group events. For further information, contact the Centennial Sportsplex at (615) 862-8480 or visit nashville.gov/sportsplex.

A-Game is a privately owned facility that has become one of the premiere sports destinations in the south. Located in Cool Springs, A-Game (formerly known as Southern Ice) is a 175,000-square-foot multi-sport training facility with five acres of outdoor space. The facility features two ice rinks, six hardwood courts for basketball and volleyball, multiple outdoor fields for football and lacrosse, a fitness center, laser chase and other sports and activities.

A-Game Sportsplex operates and administrates youth and adult hockey programs via the A-Game Hockey Association for all ages and skill levels. Youth hockey programs consist of introductory classes for new players, training clinics geared towards skill development for all levels, recreational house leagues and competitive travel teams. Adult hockey programs feature in-house recreational leagues by skill level along with training clinics focused on skill development and team tactics.

A-Game houses a pair of travel hockey programs. The Nashville Jr. Predators – the NHL club's first minor hockey affiliate established in 2009 – is a youth "AA" travel program that houses Minor and Major teams at the Mite, Squirt, Bantam, Pee-Wee and Midget classifications. The A-Game Travel "A" Storm program has Squirt, Pee-Wee, Bantam and Midget Minor clubs.

The venue is also home to several of the Predators Youth & Amateur Hockey initiatives, including the Summer Hockey School and Get Out And Learn! (G.O.A.L!) program, a free introductory program is designed for kids 9-and-under with no prior playing experience.

In an effort to support grassroots development of youth and amateur hockey in Middle Tennessee, the Nashville Predators donated $150,000 to A-Game Sportsplex in October 2010. This partnership was aimed toward bolstering grassroots development of the game and serves as a springboard for developing fans in the Middle Tennessee area. Thanks to the partnership, the Predators also host other events at A-Game such as hockey clinics, dry-land training and open skates.

HOW TO FIGURE

Assist: An assist is awarded to the player or players (maximum of two) who touched the puck prior to the goal, provided no defender plays or possesses the puck in between.

Game played: A player receives credit for playing in a game if: i) he steps on the ice during time played or; ii) serves any penalty.

Game-winning goal: After the final score has been determined, the goal which leaves the winning club one goal ahead of its opponent is the game-winning goal (example: if Team A beats Team B 8-3, the player scoring the fourth goal for Team A receives credit for the game-winning goal).

Goal: A goal is awarded to the last player on the scoring club to touch the puck prior to the puck entering the net.

Goaltender: A goaltender receives a "W" for a win in regulation, overtime or shootout; an "L" for a loss in regulation; or an "OT" for a loss in overtime or shootout.

Penalty-killing pct.: Subtract total number of power-play goals allowed from total number of shorthanded situations to get total number of power-plays killed. Divide the total number of power-plays killed by the total number of shorthanded situations.

Plus-minus: A player receives a "plus" if he is on the ice when his club scores an even-strength or shorthanded goal. He receives a "minus" if he is on the ice for an even-strength or shorthanded goal scored by the opposing club. The difference in these numbers is considered the player's plus-minus statistic.

Power-play goal: A goal scored by a club while it has a manpower advantage due to an opponent's penalty. Following are some examples of what is and is not considered a power-play goal:

- if a club has an advantage on a minor penalty starting at 2:02 of the period and it scores at 4:02, the goal is not a power-play goal.
- if a club scores on a delayed penalty, the goal is not a power-play goal.
- if a club has an advantage due to a five-minute major or match penalty, that club is always credited with having one more advantage than the number of power-play goals it scores during that advantage, because the penalty does not expire. A new advantage begins after each power-play goal. For example, if Team A scores three goals during a major penalty, it is credited with four advantages.
- if a club is on a power-play for any length of time, it is considered to have had an advantage.
- if a minor penalty is incurred by a club on a power-play due to a major penalty, a new advantage is given to that club when its minor penalty expires, provided the opponent's major penalty is still in effect.

Power-play percentage: Total number of power-play goals divided by total number of power-play opportunities.

Save percentage: Subtract goals allowed (GA) from shots against (SA) to determine saves. Then divide saves by shots-against.

Shorthanded goal: A goal scored by a club while it is at a manpower disadvantage. The same cases apply for shorthanded as for power-play goals, but in the opposite manner.

Shot on goal: If a player shoots the puck with the intention of scoring and if that shot would have gone in the net had the goaltender not stopped it, the shot is recorded as a "shot on goal."

Shutout: If two goaltenders combine for a shutout, neither receives credit for the shutout. Instead it is recorded as a club shutout.

Tenths of a second: If a penalty or goal occurs in the last minute, the time is rounded off to the previous second (ex: if a penalty is called with 12.4 seconds left in a period, the time is indicated as 19:47 and not 19:48.)

Coaches' record: A coach receives a "W" for a win in regulation, overtime or shootout; an "L" for a loss in regulation; or an "OT" for a loss in overtime or shootout.

 NOTE: No individual skater/goaltender statistics apply for the shootout

NAME, LOGO & SWEATERS

The Predators unveiled their logo, a saber-toothed tiger, in Nashville's downtown First American Center on September 25, 1997, 26 years after a fang and foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger were found in a cave just below the building's address. In May of 1971, excavation began at the downtown Nashville site of what today is the 28-story Regions Center. Further digging revealed a cave containing the nine-inch fang and a foreleg bone of a saber-toothed tiger, extinct for at least 10,000 years. Radiocarbon tests on revealed that it could have possibly been one of the last of its breed to exist. Scientists believe that some time during the last glacial period (15,000-80,000 years ago) part of the cave was the den of the saber-toothed tiger.

The discovery, made in August 1971, marked only the fifth of its kind in North America.

The saber-toothed tiger logo was co-designed by JDK Design of Burlington, Vermont and Dye, Van Mol & Lawrence of Nashville.

The naming of the Predators was a direct reflection of the fans of Nashville and their choice.

During the public events and through focus groups and related surveys, fans selected the name "Predators" by a two-to-one margin over the second choice. On November 13, 1997, the saber-toothed tiger logo was unveiled for the first time with the Predators insignia attached to it. On February 12, 1998, Head Coach Barry Trotz and Assistant Coach Paul Gardner unveiled the Predators' inaugural home and away jerseys at Cool Springs Galleria.

On November 21, 2001, the Predators debuted a third jersey with a 4-3 win against the Chicago Blackhawks at Bridgestone Arena. The jersey featured an "animated" saber-tooth tiger logo on the crest and tiger skulls on the shoulders. It was retired following the 2006-07 season.

For the 2007-08 season, the Predators, along with the other 29 NHL teams, introduced the Rbk EDGE Uniform System to further meet the performance demands of today's player.

The Predators would debut a new third jersey on November 27, 2009 against the St. Louis Blues. The sweaters, which features a vintage-inspired lace-up front, a subtle checkerboard pattern lining the bottom of the jersey, and a bolder and more simplified color scheme, were worn for the past two seasons, but will be set aside in 2011-12, making way for the first logo and color scheme redesign in franchise history.

The new logo and uniforms for the 2011-12 season were designed to develop a powerful, long term brand message and help infuse new life into the Nashville Predators imagery and brand with a more contemporary, aggressive, streamlined logo that still maintains the basic Pred Head concept. A new secondary logo was also designed to represent the state flag of Tennessee and Nashville's Music City heritage simultaneously, with a guitar pick shape incorporating the three stars of the state's three grand divisions – West, Middle and East. The "Predators Gold" sweaters create a distinctive, dominant, bold look that balances traditional elements of classic uniforms, with those unique to Nashville – guitar strings in the numbering and lettering, fangs in the neck area and piano keys on the inside of the collars.

In the spring of 1962, a small group of businessmen led by David Patterson put up $125,000 to place a team in the Eastern Hockey League. The Dixie Flyers, named after a passenger train said to be the oldest in the South, were placed in the nine-team league. The purple-and-gold colored Flyers played their first regular-season home game (a 2-0 loss to Knoxville) on Oct. 27, 1962 at the Municipal Auditorium. The Flyers endured a rough opening season, winning 16 games and qualifying for the playoffs, only to be swept in three games by Greensboro. However, it didn't take long for the Flyers to make their presence felt.

After losing in the 1965 Finals, the Flyers went on to win EHL Walker Cup championships in 1966 and 1967, the only two professional ice hockey titles in the city's history. John McLellan, who went on to coach the Toronto Maple Leafs, coached the Flyers. The Flyers swept each of their three playoff series' in 1966. They won the championship by going 11-0 in the playoffs and becoming the first team in minor league ice hockey ever to march through the playoffs undefeated.

In 1967, Patterson's group sold the team to a business group headed by Mark Parrish. The Cinderella '69 team reached the Finals, but lost in seven tough games to the Clinton (N.Y.) Comets in the Walker Cup Finals. Shortly after, the Flyers' attendance slipped dramatically. Barely able to scrape up enough funds to start the 1970-71 campaign, the Flyers folded following the season.

Hockey returned to Nashville when baseball guru Larry Schmittou, who brought minor league baseball back to Nashville in 1978 after a 15-year absence, did the same for hockey in July 1981. Thus the South Stars were founded, a team that played in the Central Hockey League and had the Minnesota North Stars as its NHL affiliate. The logo was a hockey player swinging a guitar representing the Music City while using yellow, orange and green.

The 1981-82 team finished fourth in its division and lost to Wichita, 3-0, in the first round of the playoffs. Gene Ubriaco, who went on to coach the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins and 1992 Italian Olympic team, coached the Stars.

Under new ownership (Randy Van Meter), the Stars pulled out of the CHL in 1982 and entered the old Atlantic Coast Hockey League (ACHL), playing teams geographically closer to Nashville. The Stars finished 11-43-4 and suffered through a season of low attendance. They began the following season, only to fold in December 1983.

Two Knoxville wrestling promoters, Bob Polk and Ron Fuller, rescued the sport five years later. They purchased an East Coast Hockey League franchise in January 1989. The Knights, with popular ex-South Stars player Archie Henderson as coach, attracted an astonishing 150,000 fans their first season (1989-90). While wearing red and blue uniforms adorned with the logo of a knight's mask, they made the playoffs but lost in the first round. During the 1990-91 season, Peter Horachek, current Predators associate coach, served as the Knights' head coach and director of hockey operations.

The Knights went through three ownership changes in their seven-year history. They twice went to the semifinals of the ECHL playoffs - in 1993 under ex-NHL standout and coach Nick Fotiu, and in 1995 under coach Mark Kumpel.

Perhaps the top Knights highlight came during the 1992-93 season when Trevor Jobe scored what is still a minor hockey league record 85 goals, with 76 assists, for 161 points and 12 hat tricks in his MVP season.

In the spring of 1996, after failed negotiations for a lease agreement with the Auditorium, the Knights departed to Pensacola, Fla. There, they were renamed the Ice Pilots.

Hockey was revived again with the arrival of the NightHawks in the fall of 1996. The Central Hockey League team only won 12 games, the worst in CHL history. The red-and-blue NightHawks' logo was a hawk showing its claws. Nashvillian Mike Friedman purchased the team in the summer of 1997. In a renewed salute to the old Dixie Flyers, Friedman changed both the name to the Ice Flyers and the colors to blue and gray. David Lohrie led the team to a 41-win season and a second-place finish in the CHL East and was named coach of the year. The team lost in the semi-finals to the eventual CHL Champ Columbus in April 1998. The impending arrival of the Predators led Friedman to move the franchise to Albany, Ga.

This closed the book on three separate chapters, a combined 21 years, of minor league hockey in Nashville, starting and ending with the team named the Flyers. Former Predators President Jack Diller is well aware and appreciative of Nashville's hockey pioneers. "The team and sport obviously made a significant impact on many people here in Middle Tennessee. Other teams such as the South Stars, Knights, NightHawks and Ice Flyers also enjoyed varying degrees of success - all of which helped fuel the excitement for the NHL and arrival of the Predators," Diller said.
